TO-DAY'S RALLY.

Gov. Beckham Will Speak at The Tabernacle.

Hon. A. G. Caruth and Hal Corbett Will Be Here With Him.

The visit of Gov. Beckham to-day will bring the Democratic campaign to a brilliant close in Christian county. Many of the country clubs will send in large delegations and a parade will be made through the principal streets.

The speaking will be held at the Union Tabernacle, and it is safe to say that the seating capacity of the big building will be severely taxed.

Gov. Beckham arrived last night, accompanied by Hon. A. G. Caruth, of Louisville, and Hal Corbett, of Paducah. The latter was a speaker last year for the Brown ticket, but this year doing some effective work for the Democratic ticket.

The Governor will spend a portion of the forenoon at the Democratic Headquarters at 204 South Main Street, where a reception has been arranged.

The speaking will begin at 1 o'clock p. m., or as soon thereafter as possible. Gov. Beckham will be followed by Mr. Caruth and Mr. Corbett and at 5:37 the speakers will leave for Guthrie, where they will speak between trains.

This will be Gov. Beckham's first visit to Christian during the campaign and his speech is expected to do much good.

The Democrats of Christian county are better organized and more united than they have been for five years and every indication is that they will greatly reduce the Republican majority, which has not reached 800 in any election since the fraudulent election of 1896. Many of the repeaters and floaters of former years have quit showing up in this county and the Republican vote of the county is not likely to exceed 4,000.

Gov. Beckham will reach the city at 9:45 o'clock this morning from Guthrie.

LAST REGISTRATION.

Democrats Gain in the Supplementary Additions.

The Democrats got much the best of it in the supplemental registration this week. Out of 145 names registered 99 are white and 46 colored. Politically 80 are Democrats and 65 Republican. Adding the new names to the regular figures the total in the city stands by district:

| | White | Col. | Total. |
|------------|-------|------|--------|
| No. 1—1300 | 202 | | 508. |
| No. 2—75 | 337 | | 413. |
| No. 3—389 | 88 | | 477. |
| No. 4—225 | 74 | | 290. |
| | 789 | 701 | 1690. |

Last year the total registration was 1670. The gain is altogether in the white vote and the Democrats are well pleased with the outlook. The Republican majority was 223 in the city last year, but it is not expected to exceed 150 this year.

Good Road Meetings.

The turnpike speakers are holding meetings in all parts of the county and are very hopeful of carrying the proposition this time. Two speakers go together, a Democrat and Republican. Meetings will be held at several more points this week.

Jno. C. Duffy and Chas. M. Meacham spoke at Longview last night, addressing the Democratic club at that place.

C. H. Bush will speak at Mt. Zoar to-night.

Geo. F. Campbell filled an appointment at Beverly Wednesday night and made a stirring speech to a large crowd.

J. T. Hanberry spoke at Bell's Wednesday night and found a fine organization in that vicinity and the Democrats all alert.

C. H. Bush spoke at Shaw's School House Wednesday night and his crowd was large and enthusiastic.

REELFOOT LAKE,
Tiptonville People Interested in the Question.

Tiptonville, Tenn., Oct. 27.—Lawyers are busy getting ready for court, which is to convene here next month. Minor cases are almost being overlooked in the all-absorbing question of the drainage of Reelfoot Lake which will come up at this term. This is a question relating to the title of the lake, Mr. J. C. Harris claiming it on one side and the fisher men fighting them on the other. Over 5% of the in this county are anxious to see it drained and hope Mr. Harris will win. A great many people are in error to Mr. Harris' intentions in regard to the lake. He intends to drain only in the low places leaving the deep water basins, which will be protected from net fishing and pot hunters, but will be thrown open to sportsmen. Besides the lake is so deep in some places it would be almost impossible to drain it.

KEEPS HIS PROMISE.
The Peculiar Case of Jonathan Reed, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Told his Wife on Her Deathbed she should never be buried out of his sight and Now lives in Her Tomb.

Among the features of Evergreen cemetery, Brooklyn, there is none that has caused more comment than the Jonathan Reed tomb. It contains the body of Mary E. Reed, who died in March, 1885, and is also the home of Jonathan Reed, who was her husband. They had been married 35 years when Mrs. Reed died. On her deathbed Reed promised his wife that he should never be buried out of her sight, but that he would have her body where he could see it. This promise he has carried out. The mother with which contains the body has been so placed that he can see the face of it will.

The handsome tomb was built soon after the death of Mrs. Reed, and was arranged to accommodate only two persons. The one containing the body stands at the right as one enters the tomb, and on the left is an empty coffin of the same pattern resting on marble slabs. The interior of the tomb is arranged with a view to making it cozy and homelike. The walls are decorated with the handwork of the dead woman, pictures, bric-a-brac, etc. The floor is covered with rugs, and the exterior is tastefully decorated with growing plants in costly vases. In speaking of the man who reared the tomb and who occupies it most of the time, a man who knows him said to a New York Times reporter:

"There is considerable misapprehension regarding the motives that induced him to take up his present residence. The casual observer would suppose that he is possessed of a peculiar state of mind bordering on insanity, though one has only to engage in conversation with him for a few moments, when the fact of his sanity will be established in the mind of the visitor."

He believes religious sentiment to be the result of geographical chance in the matter of birth, and that the crank is the man who breaks loose from the iron-bound dogmas of his brothers, and had it not been for the cranks the human race would have remained aboriginal.

"Let those who seek not knowledge pass by this tomb, and those who fail to learn the secret of life in death depart.—Reed."

variation with him for a few moments, when the fact of his sanity will be established in the mind of the visitor."

He believes religious sentiment to be the result of geographical chance in the matter of birth, and that the crank is the man who breaks loose from the iron-bound dogmas of his brothers, and had it not been for the cranks the human race would have remained aboriginal.

"Let those who seek not knowledge pass by this tomb, and those who fail to learn the secret of life in death depart.—Reed."

"Mr. Reed possesses a sense of humor that will save a man from becoming despondent. He laughs like a man who lives amid scenes of mirth, instead of one who spends most of his time in and about a tomb. His memory is as extraordinary as his life. He takes pleasure in relating the experiences of his past life, the humorous as well as the sad side of it, and his manner of expression makes it the more interesting. He lives as he does because he enjoys it, and, possessing his theories of life, he could enjoy nothing else. To be separated from the one whom he loved would make him most miserable and wretched."

A picture of his wife hangs on the door of the tomb, and under this the following inscription has been placed:

"Let those who seek not knowledge pass by this tomb, and those who fail to learn the secret of life in death depart.—Reed."

The Captain only laughed.

A Kansas man on route to the Paris exposition declares that the only time in his life he really lost his nerve was when the sailors on the ship commenced to load up the lifeboats with bread and water. He did not know that this is done once a week, in order to have the boats always in readiness, and he felt sure that a great state was coming that would swamp them all. He was so scared that he hunted up the captain and asked him about it. The captain only laughed, and, although that night the Kansas man easy in his mind, it also angered him. "These captains," he confided to another passenger, "put on too much style, anyway. There's but one of them that could tell the difference between a self-binder and a steam stealer."

Finley Anderson, one of the Republican witnesses who testified against Powers on minor points has given out an alleged affidavit that he lied on the witness stand. Since he is a Republican in good standing,
this admission is not at all surprising. But we fail to see why any credence should be given to statements of a self confessed perjurer.

Remove All Doubt.

Let the Democratic majority be so large Tuesday that Kentucky will never again be placed in the doubtful column. All this is necessary to carry the State by 20,000 is to get out the Democratic votes.
Democrats you will fail to do your duty if you fail to see to this matter.

In this connection, we would call attention to a republican circular now being scattered over the State.
It is sent out by the republican state executive committee, is marked
"confidential" and is signed by C.
M. Duty, a member of the republican state executive committee.

HEADQUARTERS REPUBLICAN STATE EXECUTIVE COM. OF KENTUCKY, Louisville,
Ky., Oct. 12, 1900.
(CONFIDENTIAL.)

Dear Sir:—In the aggregate what we pay for hiring horses and vehicles in the State of Kentucky, at every election, amounts to Five Thousand Dollars. Now, we think this amount can and ought to be saved. We believe Republicans can be found in every precinct in Kentucky who will furnish them free of charge, if you will ask it of them and assure them that the stock and vehicles will be returned in good condition; also further assure them that this action on their part will be much appreciated by the Committee. Please give us the names of all Republicans in your precinct who own horses, vehicles, buggies, spring wagons, and even road wagons, who will likely be willing to contribute their use to your Committee on election day.
Of course these horses and vehicles
will be used in transporting voters to the polls.

Trusting you will take up this matter and will find a goodly number of such in your precinct, we are,
Very Truly Yours,
REPUBLICAN EXECUTIVE COM.,
By C. H. Duty.

The Democratic party is in need of just such organization as this.
If every Democrat in every precinct will donate his horses and teams to the work of bringing out the voters in his precinct, the result will be the largest vote ever polled in the State. The Republicans are proposing to do this—will not Democrats do as much for their party?

We are indebted to Mr. Milt S.
Mayo, of Johnson county, for a picture of a mountain still in that county. It seems to be in a canon in the mountains. On one side is a board sign reading as follows:
"SIVEL LIBERTY PORE TALER
HERRAR PER YERKEZ. Hatfield Toloutson writ this." On the other side painted on a rock in scrawling
letters is the sign "Moonshin whisky 20 cents a pint" and other signs not legible. In the foreground are four men with copies of the Louisville Post and a deck of cards lying on the ground between them.

The Republican State Committee
is sending out to postmasters an urgent appeal for money to carry Indiana. The letters enclose a "coin transmitter" and the recipients are asked to send $1 or any sum you feel that you can give to carry Indiana for McKinley. The cards are signed by "Chas. S. Hernly, chairman" and enclosed in envelops with the words "Postmaster"
and "Kentucky" printed, leaving only the name of the office to be written. The postmasters did not all allow themselves to be held up.

Ex-Secretary Carlisle, in a letter to O. O. Stanley, says there is no authority for the presence of Federal Deputy marshals and Supervisors
at the polls, the act authorizing it having been repealed Feb. 8, 1894.
The new State law, now in force,
makes it unlawful for Federal Marshals or any one else to intimidate voters at the polls and the latest information is that the Republicans will abandon their proposed scheme
and send spies or "inspectors", with no authority, to hang about
the polls on the outside.

NEW TOBACCO YEAR.

Unsold Stocks Reduced and Little Doing at Present.

The unsold stocks of tobacco are reduced to such small volume that very little can be done until the new crop commences to move. Loose buyers report considerable purchases, but this branch of the tobacco business has not yet assumed very great proportions. The new tobacco year opened here yesterday and it will only be a short while be-

Result of the Revolution in Columbia, South America.

New York, Oct. 31.—C. B. Hart,
the United States Minister to Columbia, South America, who has arrived here and is on his way to his home in Wheeling, W. Va., said in an interview:

"Matters in Columbia are seriously mixed. The Liberals started a second revolution a few days ago,
and it has developed great strength.
The fighting has been fierce, and up-to-date the killed and wounded have numbered 30,000. While the Liberals have met with much success, it is my belief that the Government will eventually be successful.
But the revolution is seriously disturbing business."

Alden Benedict's "Quo Vadis."

That the earnest handling of religious themes and the portrayal of religious characters before the footlights is not in doubtful taste is thoroughly proven by the success which has greeted Chas. W. Chase's dramatization of Henry Sienkiewicz's famous novel, "Quo Vadis."
It is everywhere described as a wonderful production, reverently played, finely staged and beautifully costumed, filled with interest and so realistic that once seen it can never be forgotten. The prayer scene by the Apostle Peter in the third act is so beautiful in its im-plicity that nothing can exceed the intense devotional stillness with which it is received by the audience.
It is a play in which those in front live the scenes with the actors and everything else is forgotten in the keen interest felt. It will be presented at Holland's Opera House on Monday night, November 12.

TO COLLECT MONEY ORDERS.

New Plan To Be Put In Force By

Post-Office Department.

The post office department has put into practice a new plan for providing identification on the payment of postal money orders. The plan is expected to prove very popular as it does not require a person who receives a money order to take a friend along for the purpose of identification.

The post office department furnishes slips on which the payee of a money order signs his name, and the issuing postmaster attaches
these slips to the advice which goes to the paying postmaster. When the payee presents his order, he signs it, and, and the paying clerk compares his signature order to the signature attached to the advice. The postoffice will furnish slips to those who need them.

Don't Bundle Your Throat

You can cough yourself into pneumonia and consumption. Bandaging and binding your throat will do no good. You must give your throat and lungs rest, and allow them to heal. A 25 cent bottle of the Pectoral is enough to cure an ordinary cold. In harder cases a larger bottle is more economical.

TOLD THE STORY

Months Before the Trial Says Bob Franklin.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 31.—Commonwealth's attorney Franklin was asked to-day about the Anderson affidavit and if the affidavit told the truth at Louisville and lied at Georgetown. Mr. Franklin knows nothing of what Anderson alleges occurred at Cincinnati. He first heard of Anderson through reputable persons at Barboursville, to whom he had told his story months before the trial of Powers was begun at Georgetown. These persons will be called on to tell of conversations with the self-confessed perjurer, in which he said that he knew enough to convict Powers of the murder, and told them practically what he told on the witness stand. He may be prosecuted in Jefferson county, where he made the affidavit.

Judge Evans' Plan Contrary to The Law.

Carlie Gives An Opinion and the Department Admits Its Correctness.

Washington, Oct. 31.—The officials of the Department of Justice feigned great surprise at the dispatches printed here to-day to the effect that Judge Evans had taken matters in his own hands and had decided to appoint Deputy Marshals in defiance of the statute. The department here indorses Mr. Carlie's opinion as to the law in the case, but admits that Evans could appoint the deputies, and before the notice could be received here and the order cancelled by the Attorney General, the work for which they were appointed would have been accomplished.

The department, however, is working with Evans, as when a prominent official of the office was asked if any steps would be taken to stop the appointment of these deputies, he replied that they had no official notice of the matter, and that they could not act until it was brought to their attention through official channels.

If there was any desire on the part of the officials here to prevent Evans carrying through his project they would move now.

Henderson County Has Female Campaigner on Stump.

Henderson county has a woman campaigner out on the stump in behalf of the Democratic ticket in the person of Miss Sudie Tuell. She delivered a stirring speech at Henderson Tuesday night to an audience of 300.

Fair Warning.

Republican strikers and their sympathizers will no doubt attempt their usual plans of bulldozing and intimidation throughout Kentucky this year, and it would be well for Democrats to be on their guard. The attention of the voters, election officers and the public in general is called to section 15 of the new amended election law, in force this year, which reads as follows:

"Any person or persons who shall unlawfully attempt to prevent, or prevent, any voter from casting his ballot, or shall attempt to, or intimidate, any person or voter so as to prevent him from casting his ballot, or who shall unlawfully interfere with the officers of election in discharge of their duties as such, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, be confined in the penitentiary for a period of years, of not less than one nor more than five years, for each offense. The fact that the person or persons so offending may be an officer or officers of the Federal Government, or of the State or any district, county, town, or city, thereof, or of election, shall not relieve them of the responsibility or penalty for the violation of this section."

By this it will be seen that anybody, be he a U. S. Marshal, officer of the Federal Government, of the State or any district, county, town, or city, or any private citizen, who undertakes to interfere with the conduct of an election or intimidate a voter, may be arrested and sent to jail. Official station affords no protection in this dastardly business. Some of the Republican leaders are desperate, and the voters should be on the lookout for any kind of trick which will prevent them from voting the Democratic ticket.

And we advise all Democrats to be peaceable and law-abiding, and if possible, to avoid trouble of any kind.—Hartford Herald.

TRENTON TOPICS.

Prominent People Wed—Other Items of Interest.

Trenton, Ky., Nov. 1.—Mr. J. P. Russell, a prominent and wealthy tobacco dealer and Mrs. Ophelia McGuire, formerly Miss Ophelia McKee, were quietly married last night at the home of Mr. W. G. Orr. Rev. R. C. Crow, pastor of the Methodist church, performed the ceremony. The event was a surprise to their many friends, who wish them a long-life of happiness.

At 9 o'clock this morning Mr. P. W. Waller, of this county, and Miss Laura Fulcher, of near Fairview, were united in marriage at the residence of Mr. O. E. Layne, brother-in-law of the bride. The ceremony was said by Dr. J. M. Gill, of Elkton.

The groom is a prosperous young farmer and his bride is the young eldest daughter of the late Alex. Fulcher. The bridal party left at once for the home of Mr. Elmo Bell, where they took dinner and they will take supper with Mr. Will Waller, brother of the groom.

Both young people are prominent in society circles and very popular with all. They will reside at the home of the groom, five miles north of this place.

Mrs. M. M. Graves is visiting Mrs. E. A. Stowe and Mrs. Julia Baker, near Julien.

Mrs. Joe Metz is recovering from quite a serious spell of sickness. As soon as she fully recovers Mr. Metz will move into his beautiful new home in west Trenton.

APPLE TREE

Named William Goebel Now In Full Bloom.

Mr. Charles W. Smithson, of near Howell, reports an apple tree in his orchard in full bloom. The tree is a fine specimen and bears an excellent variety of fruit. Last year, during the campaign, he named the tree William Goebel. Very early in the spring the tree bloomed, but the leaves and young apples soon withered and the growth died. The tree also appeared to be entirely dead. Strange to say a month ago blossoms began to appear on its branches and it now presents a pretty sight, full of bloom.

Questions for Women

If you were offered sure aid in all of trouble would you put it to use and accept something of doubtful efficiency?

If you saw before you a strong and safe bridge leading to your goal would you ignore it to try some insecure and tottering structure?

The answer to these questions is plain. You would, of course, choose without hesitation what all evidence showed to be the safe thing, and you would risk nothing in useless experiments.

Why, then, do some women risk one of their most precious possessions—their health—in trying medicines of unknown value, which may even prove hurtful to them?

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has stood the test of years. It has the largest sale of any remedy for female ills in the world, and nothing could have given it this sale except its own merits.

Do not try any experiments, but buy what is known to be reliable. Mrs. Pinkham's Compound can do all that is claimed for it, and all statements in regard to it can be easily verified.

Write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. for a little book she has just published containing letters from the mayor of Lynn, the postmaster and others.

Mrs. Pinkham's advice is offered free of charge to all women who write to her for it. This invitation is constantly renewed, and thousands of women have been cured of serious female ills. Mrs. Pinkham's advice and medicine.

Three Letters from One Woman, Showing How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Falling of the Womb:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I see your advertisement in the papers in regard to treating women's diseases, and would be grateful to you for your advice in my case. I am suffering from falling of womb, have pains in my sides and legs, in fact I ache all over. I am getting so weak I cannot stand on my feet much. I have the headache, sometimes a choking tight feeling in my breast and throat. Have a baby seven months old. I hope to have another soon. I am in a great deal of distress."—Mrs. J. R. CONTON, Egbertsville, Va., May 16, 1898.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I followed your advice and I am now on the safe side of the matter of my falling womb and I think it is going to cure me. If it does not I never praise it for I am, and have been, a great sufferer; but now I live in hope of getting well."—Mrs. J. R. CONTON, Egbertsville, Va., July 12, 1898.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—Again I write to you. When I first wrote to you for advice in regard to my troubles I thought I could never get well. After receiving your letter I followed your advice exactly, and thanks to you I feel that I am getting well. I cannot find words to express the good your medicine will do for me. It is really more than I needed. I am getting well."—Mrs. J. R. CONTON, Egbertsville, Va., April 13, 1899.

Two Women Cured of Irregularity, Falling of the Uterus and Ovarian Trouble.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I have female weakness. Menstruation irregular, nervous, bearing-down pains in left side and hip. My doctor said I had womb trouble and enlargement of the ovaries. I have doctor's two months, but see no improvement."—Miss MARY E. REED, Swan Creek, Ill.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—Your good advice has been worth more than all I ever received from a doctor. Words cannot express my gratitude to you for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After twelve years' suffering I am out and healthy."—Mrs. MARY E. REED, Swan Creek, Ill., April 9, 1899.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I suffer female troubles. My doctor wishes my ovaries and uterus, but I shall never consent. Menstruation is irregular and my head has a bad feeling. Hospital treatment does me no good. I have five children and am now forty years old. Please advise what medicine to take."—Mrs. E. E. SONDERS, 437 N. 4th St., Philadelphia, Pa., September 27, 1898.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I followed the advice you gave me and your medicine has cured me. I feel better when I had taken the Vegetable Compound but a week."—Mrs. E. E. SONDERS, Philadelphia, Pa., February 6, 1899.

Another Case of Nervous Prostration and Inflammation of the Bladder Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I have used your Vegetable Compound for female weakness and it has done wonders for me. I also had nervous prostration and was not able to look after my household. After taking one bottle I began to improve, and a new better in every way and feel like a different person."—Mrs. DELLA KIRK, Marionville, Pa., February 20, 1899.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I cannot praise your Vegetable Compound enough for the good it has done me. I suffered from inflammation of the bladder. I tried doctors, but obtained no relief. At last I decided to write you and now, thanks to your remedies, I am entirely cured."—Mrs. K. S. GRADY, 131 Union St., High Bridge, New York City, April 11, 1899.

Is there nothing that a splendid Missouri mule can do a great horse show? Why should the Missouri mule be wholly excluded from the best equine society?

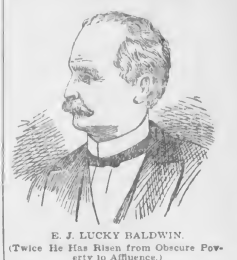

IS RICH ONCE MORE.

Lucky Baldwin Reputed to Be a Millionaire Again.

Through Pluck and Good Business Management This Unique Western Character Gains Fresh Supply of Wealth.

"Lucky" Baldwin is the title by which E. J. Baldwin is known far and near in California. He used to say, however, that it was pluck and not luck that brought him millions. Though to the public, wealth seemed to easily flow into his hands, in reviewing the old man's history it appears that his remark had much of truth in it. Mr. Baldwin was born on a farm near Halesite, Wis., and when a boy is years old, he took a fine little horse, of which he was very proud, to South Bend, Ind., and there his horse ran a winning race. With his cash capital and some credit he was able to open a grocery store, which prospered, and in time Baldwin bought several wagons and horses and started for California. By judicious trading on the way, he reached San Francisco in 1853 considerably richer than he was when he left home. Figuring that in the booming new town of San Francisco millions of bricks would soon be needed, he bought an interest in a brickyard. He learned the art of making bricks thoroughly, and then started a yard for himself and out of this business there came to him a fortune. In a short time he bought a lively stable, which proved to be an excellent investment, and in time Mr. Baldwin decided that he had done well enough to warrant his taking a trip around the world.

When he returned from abroad he brought with him a company of Japanese acrobats, who delighted the people of San Francisco and all the mining towns of the west, and finally their success led him to New York at the Academy of Music. This tour was

E. J. LUCKY BALDWIN.

(Twice He Has Risen from Obscure Poverty to Affluence.)

After Baldwin's return to San Francisco from New York he bought mining stock, and in the course of a little time he discovered that there was a school on foot to "freeze him out." He heard of the plans of the other owners and did not approve of them. Half an hour before they were to put their plans in execution Baldwin and some friends in the mine they were holding, and with fists, cudgels and a revolver, made things lively for them for nearly half an hour, until his attorney arrived with an injunction.

After the burning of Baldwin's hotel in 1868 it was supposed that the old man was "flat broke," and, though he owned 50,000 acres of land in lower California, this was mortgaged, as was also the hotel. The hotel was not insured, and its unfortunate owner was forced to sell his ground for $100,000. This went toward paying off mortgages and other debts.

Last Christmas Baldwin surprised his friends by announcing that he was going to Cape Nome, as he knew there was wealth there if a man only knew how to get it. In the ruins of his hotel Baldwin had some time before rigged up a stock of theers, and there had a company of Hawaiian dancers, who made him money. He engaged them to play a season in the mining camp. He gathered other valuable attractions, and, loaded up a ship with provisions for eight months, put a theater ready to be nailed together in its hold, and sailed away to Cape Nome.

Now the news comes to San Francisco that "Lucky Baldwin" has struck it rich; that not satisfied with the success of his far north theater, he took up pick and shovel and went out into the frozen wilderness and dug for gold, and gold he found.

Nothing but a superabundance of pluck could have made a man of his age determined enough to begin the battle of a search after wealth all over again. The annals of California bristle with references to the energy and determination of many of the rugged men who have made the state what it now is, but no one has made "Lucky Baldwin's" record hold place with the best of them.

Stout Lady Saves a Life.

A Massachusetts grandmother weighing 200 pounds climbed 13 feet down a well and rescued a three-year-old child who had tumbled into three feet of water at the bottom. Mrs. Philip Turner, of Newton Center, did this. She saw the child in and no other help was near. She seized a ladder and went down it, though the well was only 2½ feet in diameter and was still further dimmed by reason of an iron pipe which went to the bottom. Mrs. Turner is more than 50 years old, and she has been the heroine of the village ever since the rescue.

"The Prince of the World" To-morrow Night.

In speaking of the "The Prince of the World," which was presented in Henderson Monday night the Gleaner says:

"The Prince of the World" was presented at the opera house last evening to a large and enthusiastic audience. It is a really great play, and a company of universal excellence and they came modestly into town and scored the hit of the season. The play appeals to all classes. The Jew, pagan, infidel, atheist, all can find instruction and entertainment in the story and the series of histrionic living pictures which is presented in the play. The story is both fascinating and instructive and never lags or loses interest for a moment. The prologue is a perfect little gem, in its way, and is finely acted by the company.
